

WASHTENAW COUNTY

Washtenaw County's Office of Community & Economic Development (OCED) offers free Home Improvement Programs that fall into several categories: rehabilitation, weatherization, and energy optimizing services to income eligible homeowners. The Home Rehabilitation Program uses federal HUD funds to help bring eligible properties into compliance with housing standards. The specific programs under this service are an Accessibility Ramp Program, a Critical Repair Program, and a Roof Replacement program. It is on a first-come, first-served basis. The Home Weatherization Program offers air sealing within attics/foundations; insulation for crawlspaces, attics and walls; and to help repair/replace furnaces, hot water heaters, and refrigerators. The application can be printed from the website and returned to the OCED office. Contact (734) 544-3008 for eligibility or application questions. The Furnace Test and Tune Program falls under Washtenaw County's energy services and is in partnership with DTE to help homeowners with furnace repairs, installation of programmable energy saving thermostats, etc. Call (734) 544-3005 to have an application mailed to you. Details on all programs can be found at <https://www.washtenaw.org/2923/Home-Improvement-Programs>. Applications for each program can be found on the website.
